

Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund

Lewis-Clark State College has received the student relief installment of the CARES Act funding from the U.S. Department of Education in the amount of $989,886.00.

The funds provided direct emergency assistance for LC State students who had incurred unanticipated expenses due to the disruption of campus operations in response to COVID-19. Funds were immediately available to students who met the following criteria:

Currently enrolled, degree-seeking students not enrolled in exclusively online courses

Title IV eligible as determined by the 2019-2020 FAFSA

Meeting Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)

Not receiving a faculty/staff fee waiver

Not withdrawn as of March 25, 2020

Incurred unanticipated COVID-19 related expenses including, for example, additional childcare, technology, moving expenses

Students not meeting the automatic criteria above, but have incurred expenses due to the disruption of campus operations in response to COVID-19, may apply to be considered. You must file a FAFSA to determine your Title IV eligibility.

You must be enrolled in 2020FA Semester at LC State, not exclusively online, to submit a request for consideration for CARES Act funds. The deadline for submitting the secondary application is:

Fall Semester – Friday, September 25, 2020

You must provide documentation with your application demonstrating the impact to your education due to the disruption of campus operations in response to COVID-19. The documentation may include, but is not limited to, letters of employment termination or reduced hours, receipts for increased food costs or utilities, or doctor's notes showing need to self-quarantine or illness or care of the student or family member.

Submit your application with all supporting documentation. Incomplete applications will not be processed.

Please allow 7-10 business days for review of your application and documentation. You will be notified by email of the decision and next steps in the process based on the outcome.

Should your request be approved, direct deposit is encouraged to prevent delays in receiving the funds. Without direct deposit, a check will be processed and sent through regular mail once your address is confirmed with Student Accounts.

Please send any questions to caresact@lcsc.edu or call 208-792-2224.
